TINLEY PARK MAN 53 YEARS IN SERVICE

Charles Tinley worked for the Rock Island over half a century

FIGURES IN WRITEUP

Tinley Park, Oct. 9.—The following interesting write-up appears in the Rock Island Magazine, a publication for the employees of the Rock Island railroad, relative to Charles Tinley, a veteran conductor after whom this village is named, the writeup appearing in the October issue:

"When Charles Tinley arrived in Chicago a mere lad of eight years, the bustling little Lake Michigan city appealed to him immensely. It was different from the cities in England the little chap had known. Since that time, 1848, Tinley had witnessed the rapid growth of Chicago from a crude, primitive frontier town to the second largest city in America, and the third largest in the entire world.

"Very few families of the Rock Island lines have enjoyed the length of service of the Tinley family. The combined service of the father and three sons cover 138 years. Samuel Tinley, the father, was agent at Bremen, Ill., from 1855 to 1875. Charles Tinley was with the Rock Island from 1856 until January, 1910, when he was incapacitated by a fall. Samuel Tinley, a brother, was agent at Mokena, Ill., 25 years. Edward Tinley, another brother, was agent at DePue 40 years. Charles and Samuel Tinley are alive today.

"One of the prized relics now in the possession of Charles Tinley, who resides at 7230 Yale avenue, Chicago, is a letter written to him by W. H. Whitman, assistant superintendent of the Chicago, Rock Island and Peoria and Bureau Valley Railroad company, on January 15, 1864, as follows:

"'I want you to come up on mail train tomorrow, Saturday, with your caboose and men to Joliet and be ready to go to Rock Island with a regiment on Sunday. I shall go down Saturday night or Sunday morning with engine to take the train and go through with you.'"

"On this particular occasion Conductor Tinley ran a train load of Confederate prisoners to Rock Island, where they were placed on duty at the arsenal. A few years later he was made a passenger conductor, continuing on active service until January 8, 1910. He is now one of the veterans on the pension roll.

"Although he is forced to use crutches, Mr. Tinley is quite active and devotes his time in caring for his invalid wife at home, and occasionally taking a train for Tinley Park, Ill., where he owns an excellent modern farm. Tinley Park is named after him. This was formerly Bremen."

PERPETUAL FUND BEING PLANNED AT NEW LENOX

Maplewood cemetery to be enlarged if additional land can be bought.

New Lenox, Oct. 9.—The Maplewood Cemetery association or the New Lenox Cemetery association, as it is generally known, held a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Urch to consider the purchase of three acres of ground from the Camp Meeting association—these grounds adjoining the cemetery. The burial ground is well filled up and more space is urgently needed. The matter of the purchase of the additional ground has been taken up with representatives of the Camp Meeting association, but there is some question as to whether any of the land can be sold legally for the reason that the ground was donated for camp meeting purposes only, and a 55-year lease was granted the Camp Meeting association on this condition. At the end of the lease term the property, it is understood, will revert to the heirs of the donors. If the land can be sold legally, however, the deal may go through this fall.

In addition to the proposed purchase of additional land, the association is considering the creation of a perpetual fund for keeping up the lots on the cemetery grounds. It is proposed to have each lot owner pay a certain amount into the perpetual fund. Plans have not been fully made as to the procedure to be employed, but this will be worked out later.

Last Friday, October 3, Miss Margaret Sinclair entertained 26 friends at her home in honor of her eleventh birthday. A farewell party was directed at the same time by the King's Heralds of the Methodist church in honor of the Misses Vivian and Ruth Brown, who are leaving this week for Wisconsin.

The afternoon was spent in playing various games. Delightful refreshments were served by Mrs. Sinclair, who was assisted by Mrs. H. N. Dickinson, Miss Hope David and Miss Mabel Oram.

Those present in honor of Miss Sinclair's birthday were: Gaylord and Russell Mangan, Loscombe and Elaine Klossy, Harold and Mildred Sayers, Helen Johnson, Homer Peddycourt, Lloyd Pfaff, Clarence and Everett Gulickson, Edna Pugh, Ruth Brown, Edward and Gertrude Pelkey, Ethel Spuehler, Grace Morris, Helen Campbell, Effie Peterson, Reed and Roy Moore, Vera Werner, Walter Sayers, Gaylord Robinson, Frances and Charles Barclay of Joliet.

The party of friends present in honor of the farewell of Vivian and Ruth Brown were Elizabeth and Marie Peterson, Marquerite Martin, Erma Sass, Marguerite and Welma Werner, Florence and Lucile McCarthy, Pauline Knickerbocker, Anna Francis, Adella Francis, Wilma and Josephine Craven, Alice Oram, Margaret Doig, Bessie Sayers, Esther Pugh and Ruth Johnston of Joliet.

BUYS WISCONSIN FARM.

Fred Brown has purchased a farm near Whitley, Wis., and expects to move his family there within two weeks. Mr. Brown's farm is close to the farm of Clarence Urch, a former New Lenox resident.

ROCK ISLAND EMPLOYES IN BIG DRIVE

Mokena men to take part in "Prevent Injury" campaign this month

Mokena, Oct. 9.—Local employees of the Rock Island railroad have received the following notice from C. L. Ruppert, superintendent of this division relative to the National Railroad Accident Prevention Drive:

"The National Railroad Accident Prevention Drive will commence at 12:01 a. m. October 18th, ending at midnight, October 31st, 1919. We desire to do everything possible during the drive to prevent accidents and make the returns for the Rock Island 100 per cent. If every employee will take the proper interest in this campaign we will be able to secure the results hoped for.

"This campaign is to be carried on over the entire United States, and every man who works for the Rock Island will be mighty pleased if they could see our road at the head of the list when the campaign closes. It is going to require some hard work to bring this about, but we have been able to work hard in other campaigns and I am sure we can do it in this. We put every Liberty Loan campaign over the top 100 per cent. and then some, and if we put forth the same effort we will be able to obtain the same results in this campaign. I know you will assist me in every way possible, and am counting on each and every one of you to do your part."

Further information as to the methods to be employed during the campaign will be given later.

UNDERGOES OPERATION.

William Niethammer, who was stricken seriously ill Wednesday afternoon was removed to the Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, the same night, where he underwent an operation which was performed by Dr. W. V. Hedges of Frankfort. The cause of the illness was a rupture. Mr. Niethammer has been a very sick man since, but hopes are held out for an early recovery.

Mr. Niethammer's children, Hugo and Ruth, who were away visiting with relatives in Missouri, were notified of their father's illness and returned home.

The places of business in the village which have come under the new licenses, as passed by the village board, have all taken out their licenses with the exception of Henry Stellwagen, who found that his garage was not producing enough revenue to warrant taking out a license, so he took down his garage sign.

A. Young and family, who have been residents of Mokena for about five years, have moved to Plainfield, where they have purchased a new modern home. They left Saturday. Their friends here wish them much happiness in their new home. Mr. Young and family came from Chicago when they first located here.

Mokena friends have received news from the Makle family of Poplar Grove that they are liking their new location very well. Professor Rakle is teaching a large school and has an assistant.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wachter spent Sunday in Chicago.

The moonlight picnic directed by the Men's club Saturday night was attended in spite of the heavy downpour of rain. The last picnic of the season is scheduled for Saturday, October 18. If the weather permits a few extra dances may be given.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith of Chicago were guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rinke, Sr., the week end.

The recent heavy downpour of rain has greatly benefited the pasture lands, which are commencing to get green again. A good fall crop of grass is predicted. Many cisterns which had gone dry have been filled to overflowing.

MILK MEN TO PLAN DEFENSE AT FRI. MEET

Mokeoa, Oct 9- [Special] A meeting has been called by F. C. Hinspeter, secretary of the Mokena local of the Milk Producers Association for Friday morning at Mokena Hall for the purpose of deciding on a plan of defense as every past and present member of the Association is likely to stand trial in Chicago as a result of proceedings instituted against the Association by State's Attorney Maclay Hoyne of Cook County. The local dairymen are planning on a fight to the finish.

Frankfort Man Runs 12,000 Miles on a Fisk Auto Tire

Andrew Eisenbrandt of Frankfort has beat the record in getting wear out of an auto tire. The past week he brought in a Fiske tire to the local garage of Heuser & Mager, claiming that his tire has run 12,000 miles. The tire saw some mighty hard and rough service on all kinds of gravel and mud roads. Except for a small hole which can be easily patched, it is still good for many more miles. The tire is on exhibition at the garage mentioned. It shows the great service-giving qualities of this well-known make of tire.

Mr. Eisenbrandt has used this car on contract work and has had the car overloaded which has been a heavy strain on the tires.

MATTESON TO HAVE MEMORIAL CAMPAIGN NOW

Matteson, Oct. 9.—Three days after the death of ex-President Theodore Roosevelt, January 6, 1919, at a meeting held in Chicago there was authorized the appointment of a Roosevelt Memorial committee which should take upon itself the task of securing a fitting national memorial to the former president.

As a result of this and other meetings arrangements are being made to conduct a nation-wide campaign to raise $6,000,000 to provide a memorial in accordance with the plans of the National Memorial association.

A national, state and local organization will be effected for the purpose of conducting a simultaneous campaign October 20-27 for millions of subscribers to the Roosevelt Memorial association fund. Millions of subscribers to this fund will, in itself, constitute a memorial more fitting than any which can be purchased with money.

The campaign committee wishes to impress on the mind of every prospective subscriber that the necessary funds will be provided by a great national free-will gift and that the purpose of this is to inform the subscriber as to how he can transmit his subscription and to provide the necessary machinery for receiving the funds as they are given.

Clarence A. Hercules, chairman.

George H. Fortmiller, campaign manager for Sections 13-26, inclusive.

William Rea, treasurer for this district.

YOUNG LADY OF FRANKFORT IS A FALL BRIDE

WILL LIVE IN ST. JOE

Frankfort, Oct. 9.—A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mrs. Peter Hansen, Saturday afternoon when her daughter, Miss Etta, and John Cordano, the latter of Joliet, were united in marriage. Promptly at three o'clock the bridal couple entered the parlor and took their positions beneath a beautiful floral arch, where they mere met by Rev. William Kreis of the St. John Evangelical church of Mokena, who performed the ceremony. The ring service was used. Miss Mary Claus of Ottawa and David Stutsman of Round Lake were the attendants.

The bride chose for her gown a creation of white crepe de chine and georgette crepe trimmed with beads, and carried a boquet of rosebuds. The only ornament she wore was a wrist watch, the gift of the groom. The bride's going-away suit was a two-tone duvetyn with a hat to match.

The bridesmaid was dressed in a beautiful gown of pink silk worked in forget-me-nots.

Following the ceremony a four-course dinner was served. Pink and white were the colors carried out in the menu.

The bride and groom received many beautiful and useful cut-glass and silverware gifts, besides some beautiful rugs and other presents.

Both the bride and groom were graduates of the Jacksonville school. After a short honeymoon trip they will be at home to their friends in St. Joe, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Krueger and son, Almon, Jr., who have been guests of the Leppla home, have returned to Minneapolis, Minn.

The Pleasant Hill Cemetery association held a meeting Friday night. The board of directors instructed Fred Leppla, the secretary, to post notices that 14 piles of dead limb wood cut from trees on the cemetery will be sold at auction to the highest bidder October 18 at 2 p. m.

ELECTED TREASURER.

Henry Stellwagen has been chosen as treasurer of the Brotherhood of the St. Peter Evangelical church to fill the vacancy caused by the death of William Scheer.

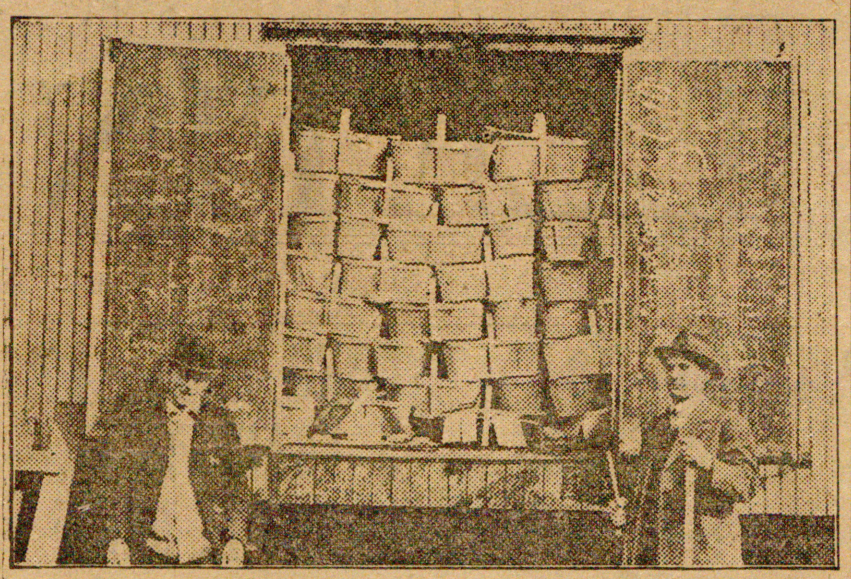
BIG LOSS OF FRUITS AND VEGETABLES IN REFRIGERATOR CARS MAY BE DECREASED



Thousands of Carloads of Perishable Foods Are Crushed and Lost Through Improper Loading.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

For every thousand persons in the United States there is at least one refrigerator car, loaded with food products, rolling along the rails. These cars carry billions of pounds, and more than three-fourths of them haul fruits and vegetables. Much of this produce is highly perishable, and must be moved quickly, while temperatures are kept down by the use of ice.

Unless one is given to traveling, his breakfast fruit or dinner salad is likely to have covered more miles in a trip of days than he has in as many months, and all the way from field to table perishable fruits and vegetables must be watched over and cared for by a group of workers who are as busy as a mother traveling with a baby in her arms.

Sometimes refrigerator cars arrive at markets with their fruit or vegetables damaged by heat or shifting of loads through faulty containers, or diseases and rots developing during transit. This means not only a loss of foodstuffs, but increased prices for the sound produce that arrives on the market—losses that in the long run must be borne by wholesaler, retailer, producer and consumer. This itself is serious enough, but, according to the bureau of markets of the United States department of agriculture there is a present shortage of refrigerator cars in this country, and the more cars that bring damaged produce to market the fewer available cars there are to carry perishable food to the cities.

What Can Be Done About It?

If, and this is where science steps in, the present equipment of refrigerator cars should be modernized, and if more care were taken in loading, bracing and hauling perishables in these modernized cars, losses of food would be reduced and our scanty supply of refrigerator cars made to carry more actual food to market.

At one large market last July 127 cars of peaches were inspected by the bureau of markets. Most of these cars were "in trouble," as the inspectors say, and they represented 31 per cent of the total July arrivals at that market. Although brown rot was bad this year among peaches, and accounted for much loss and sales of as low as ten cents a crate for rotted fruit, it is pointed out by refrigerator car men that some of this loss is due to poor refrigeration which could be avoided by proper construction of cars and better loading and handling methods.

Estimates based on reports of carlot shipments of fruit and vegetables, compiled by the bureau of markets, show about 400,000 shipments moving under refrigeration. From reports of inspectors at Chicago, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh from May 15 to July 15, covering 189 shipments under refrigeration, it was found that the average decay of all commodities was 11.8 per cent. In 147 of these shipments the temperature of the load on arrival was found to vary from 40 to 75 degrees Fahrenheit, averaging 53 degrees. These shipments, including 60 cars of peaches with average decay on arrival of 9.8 per cent; 30 cars of cabbage, average decay 18.8 per cent; 9 cars of tomatoes, average decay 25.8 per cent; 5 cars of cantaloupes, average decay 8.4 per cent; and 6 cars of strawberries, average decay 38 per cent.

Decay on arrival does not include all the deterioration, according to investigators, because many shipments showing a small percentage of decay arrive overripe and soft, owing to imperfect refrigeration, and these shipments deteriorate rapidly while in the hands of dealers and consumers. But without considering the decay that occurs after the cars are unloaded, the percentage of decay in the total number of cars of fruit and vegetables arriving under refrigeration shows an enormous loss of food. If the average of 11.8 per cent decay shown on shipments at Chicago, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh last year held at other markets, it would mean an annual loss of about 47,200 carloads destroyed in transit, or about 1,180,000,000 pounds of fruit and vegetables. This loss is only in shipments moving under refrigeration. There is heavy loss also in shipments under ventilation.

Better Cars, Less Loss.

Experiments on shipping perishables in refrigerator cars have located causes of loss and shown that change in car construction will reduce the losses. In each end of a refrigerator car are compartments running from the roof to the floor and known as "bunkers," which are filled with ice before the car is loaded. There is a passage under and around this ice bunker and its insulated wall out to the floor of the car. Air, cooled by the ice, is heavier than warm air, and travels downward and out along the floor of the car, displacing the warm air above it and thus cooling the load. Raising the load on open floor racks helps distribute the cold air from the ice bunkers and increases air circulation, which is necessary to protect the produce from damage. The question of insulation for the floor ends and sides of the car is also important and air spaces must be provided between the rows of containers so that all the load will be kept cool. All these problems and a standard type of refrigerator car has been designed by the department of agriculture. Some of these improved cars have been built by the railroad administration and are giving satisfactory results.

Improvement of refrigerator cars cannot be depended upon to eliminate all of the present enormous loss in handling fruits and vegetables, according to the bureau of markets. Farmers can help by more careful picking, grading and packing, and shippers and dealers by more attention to loading and handling fruits and vegetables.

PREFER LONG, SMOOTH CORN

Nebraska Farmers Believe That Kind of Ear Will Stand More Grief Than Other Types.

Over a large part of Nebraska they have come to the conclusion that corn with along, smooth ear will ordinarily stand more grief and yield more than corn of the so-called show type. The Nebraska station has four years of experimenting which indicates that the large, rough type of ear yields an average of 51 bushels to the acre; the short, rough, 57 bushels; the short, smooth, 57 bushels, and the long, slim, smooth, 59 bushels. For some reason corn with long, slim, smooth ears that partake slightly of flint characteristics, stands trouble better than the more fancy-looking corn of central Iowa and Illinois.

When Hen Is Unprofitable.

The average hen is not profitable for egg production after the second year, though occasionally a hen with a rugged constitution lays well for three or four years.

FARMERS WASTING MONEY

One of Chief Ways Is Failure to Keep Farming Equipment in Proper Condition.

No one likes to make money any more than the farmer, yet he is the person who is most prone to waste it. One of the chief ways in which he wastes money is by his failure to keep in proper condition his farming equipment. Many kinds of machinery which are used in one season and not in the others should be stored away when not in use.

PLAN FOR COMFORT OF HOGS

Locate Quarters Amid Plenty of Shade and Provide Substantial Concrete Wallow.

The heat discomfort of hogs on the farm may be alleviated by locating the hog quarters amid plenty of shade and providing a substantial, permanent hog wallow made of concrete of a size adequate for the requirements of the herd.

POULTRY

CHICKENS INCREASE SAVINGS

North Carolina Poultry Club Member Made Remarkable Record With Small Flock of Hens.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A net return of $2 a hen over a four-months' period is the remarkable record of a North Carolina poultry club member who, about the middle of January, mated 15 White Leghorn hens with a standard-bred male of the same variety. During the ensuing four months these 15 hens laid 1,108 eggs. Of this number 50 were placed in the incubator, from which 41 chicks were hatched and all but five were raised. The owner marketed six cockerels for $3.60. He now has on hand 30 pullets. He sold 304 eggs for hatching purposes for $30.50, as well as 54½ dozen market eggs for $20.07, making a total income from his small flock of $54.80. The cost of feeding the flock during this time was $21.40, which leaves a net return of $33.40.

Club Boy Feeding His Flock.

This record is by no means exceptional, as, with the coming of the poultry club and with the development of enthusiasm among its members, egg producing as well as flock income returns, has greatly increased in every section.

Properly developed and fostered, poultry is one of the most profitable side-lines in which most farmers can become interested, and, at present, there is hardly any activity of modern farming which will pay better than the maintenance and production of good poultry.

GOOD SCALY LEG TREATMENT

Dip Affected Parts in Crude Oil or Kerosene—One Submersion Is Usually Sufficient.

Scaly leg is caused by a small mite which burrows underneath the scales of the legs, where it feeds and lays its minute eggs. The legs become so sore at times that fowls are unable to scratch for food or set on the roost.

The treatment consists of dipping the legs in crude oil. If not convenient pure kerosene may be used. Dip early enough so that the oil will dry before the fowls go on the roost, and be careful that the oil does not get on the feathers. One treatment is usually sufficient, but if the old scales have not peeled off after 30 days it should be repeated.

LAYERS IN GOOD CONDITION

Eggs Can Be Produced in Fall and Early Winter as Easy as Spring if Hens Get Feed.

If the hens are in good condition the poultry keeper can get eggs just as well in the fall and early winter as in spring, if they are fed exactly 12 hours apart every day in the year, and have ample time to eat the feed before going to roost. Professor Rice has the results of many practical tests made at Cornell and elsewhere to prove this statement.

YOUNG FOWLS BEST LAYERS

Seldom Pays Poultry Keeper to Retain Hens for Laying After Two and One-Half Years Old.

There are people who have the right variety of fowls, who house and feed them properly, and yet who cannot obtain eggs early in the winter because their fowls are too old. It is seldom that it pays to keep hens for laying after they are two and a half years old; not that they will not give a profit, but that younger fowls will give a greater profit.

Chicken Mite Worst.

The common chicken mite is the most troublesome of all external parasites of poultry. They multiply rapidly during warm weather, and often cause serious losses before their presence is discovered.

THE "BLUES"
Caused by Acid-Stomach

Millions of people who worry, are despondent, have spells of mental depression, feel blue and are often melancholy, believe that these conditions are due to outside influences over which they have little or no control. Nearly always, however, they can be traced to an internal source—acid-stomach. Nor is it to be wondered at. Acid-stomach, beginning with such well defined symptoms as indigestion, belching, heartburn, bloat, etc., will if not checked, in time affect to some degree or other all the vital organs. The nervous system becomes deranged. Digestion suffers. The blood is impoverished. Health and strength are undermined. The victim of acid-stomach, although he may not know the cause of his ailments, feels his hope, courage, ambition and energy slipping. And truly life is dark—not worth much to the man or woman who has acid-stomach!

Get rid of it! Don't let acid-stomach hold you back, wreck your health, make your days miserable, make you a victim of the "blues" and gloomy thoughts! There is a marvelous modern remedy called EATONIC that brings, oh! such quick relief from your stomach miseries—sets your stomach to rights—makes it strong, cool, sweet and comfortable. Helps you get back your strength, vigor, vitality, enthusiasm and good cheer. So many thousands upon thousands of sufferers have used EATONIC with such marvelously helpful results that we are sure you will feel the same way if you will just give it a trial. Get a big 50 cent box of EATONIC—the good tasting tablets that you eat like a bit of candy—from your druggist today. He will return your money if results are not even more than you expect.

LATEST STYLES IN GOWNS AND HATS

From all signs this will be a decisive season in Paris in so far as fashion creation is concerned. The designers seem to have taken on their old accustomed stride. They have turned their efforts unreservedly to leadership in the world of style.

To aid them in this crucial moment there are arriving from the United States, from South America, and from England hosts of buyers and fashion experts to watch the latest developments. This is almost a new experience. At least it is a revived experience, for through the last five years only the most favored of buyers have been allowed to cross the water and only a few of the dressmakers have kept up their work with anything like pre-war vigor.

American women during the war have developed a style all their own. They are dressing now as suits the climate and their life and their pursuits, which are quite different from the French woman's. And one sympathizes with the buyers, who wonder whether their clients at home will refuse to accept the wonderful things brought over from France. If their eyes are trained only for beauty they will be dazzled into letting all their accumulated notions of dress go by the board and the conservatives at home will not be suited.

At this time of the year all of France, as all of the rest of the world, seeks a cool spot; and so it is at Deauville and the other resorts by the seaside that one looks upon the fashionably arrayed crowd of women and is able to gain some idea of the trend of the times as regards dress. They are wearing the very latest things from a French point of view, and, of course, the majority of the fall fashions will follow in some respects the lines favored just now.

Skirts Are Very Short.

Well, the tendency is all in the direction of the skirts that are shorter than anything America has ever worn or even dreamed about. You hear it said that the Parisians are wearing their skirts very long, but when you see them with their skirts actually extending just below their knees, so that when their arms are raised the skirt pulls above the knee, you know what a short skirt really is. It is easy on material and is extremely good looking when the figure of the wearer can stand the strain. The skirts are tight, too, but what matters that when their length is what it is? No trouble about taking a good, long step in a dress of this character. Then the coats, when it is a suit, reach almost to the bottom of the skirts, leaving, in fact, only about two or three inches of the skirt to be seen. The coats are either strictly tailored or they show a little fullness about the hips. That tells a story of forthcoming fullnesses of even greater volume.

It is so with the dresses. Always there is a slight gathering of extra material where the hips join the waist. It is the pannier that is greeting us on the broad highway of fashion. As yet it is not large enough nor full enough to be alarming, though there are rumors of hoops about the hips and even about the bottoms of the skirts.

Sleeves Are Scant.

The sleeves now in vogue can hardly be called sleeves. They actually are just a little strip of material over the top of the shoulder. In most instances that is all, and the Parisians wear them fearlessly for morning and afternoon. In the evening there is no sign to be seen of sleeves.

Even the blouses for wear with tailored suits are scantily equipped as to sleeves. They will be quite high at the neck, buttoning up under the chin most uncomfortably on a hot day, and then they will have these little, inadequate sleeves—that is, they are inadequate for anything except setting off a good-looking arm.

An afternoon hat of unusual merit. The skeleton ostrich feathers make a striking trimming for this exquisite headgear of velvet.

Favorite Color Combination.

Black and white is by all odds the favorite color combination at the French resorts at this time of the year. Black and white stripes, since early spring, have been very good for separate silk dresses and for suits, as well as for topcoats. Now the new woolly fabrics are appearing, and they show these stripes in wide and narrow arrangements.

Then there is the black gown with the white hat; that is the most effective. This season they are wearing over the white hat, which is sans trimming, a black, lacy veil. This makes the costume even more effective. The veil does not necessarily cover the face—in fact, it rarely does—but its lacy pattern is so distributed that the white showing through the black transparent pattern makes a trimming of its own.

Hats Without Trimming.

The hats, as a forecast of fall headgear, are mostly without trimming. The style is all in the line, but how that line is obtained is a complete mystery. Upon examination the riddle only becomes more complicated. There seems to be nothing there except a band of something stiff to fit about the head. The crown and the brim are entirely without inner stiffening or frame. The trick does not allow for explanation. It is all in the wizard who causes it to be. Yet, when this seeming mass of velvet or satin is put on the head it takes a shape and form that commend it to any wearer. It seems to have been made to set off at its best that face alone, and while you cannot say that the hat is round or oval or square or long, still it has shape.

The felt-blocked hats worn with midseason gowns are round as to crown and as to brim as well. The brim turns up at the same distance all the way round and the only trimming for the hat is a silk band of the same color. Hats of this character in beige and taupe worn with navy blue suits are effective. Then there is another variation of this hat done in duvetyn. One of royal blue was worn with a gray serge suit.

THE TABLE'S HOLIDAYS.

"It's funny," said the table, "but I didn't like it at all."

"What didn't you like?" asked the arm chair.

"You know," said the table, "that I am a little tea table."

"Yes, I know that," said the arm chair.

"Well so far, so good."

"What do you mean by that?" asked the arm chair. "I am afraid I do not understand. You know I'm rather lazy and not one for thinking much."

"I mean," said the table, "that you understand what I have told you thus far."

"But you've only told me you were a tea table so far," said the arm chair.

"That's so," agreed the tea table. "But you understand me thus far and so I say so far, so good."

"Ah, yes," said the arm chair, slowly, "now I understand. But you mustn't be too quick with me, for as I said before I am lazy. I like to sit back and do nothing, and everyone who uses me feels the same way. It's the way I make them feel—my way!"

"I know that," said the tea table.

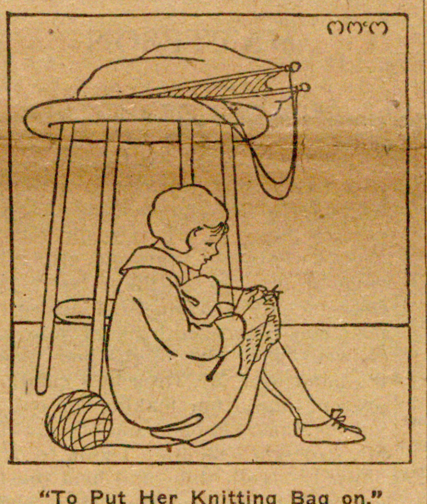
"Well, I got all tired out," it continued. "I wasn't used as a tea table only. I was used for after-dinner coffee, and I was used when folks had birthdays and wanted to fix their birthday presents on a table where they could show off their presents to their friends.

"Then I was used as a table for sewing and one person used me all the time to put her knitting bag on.

"I was used for books and I was used for meals which some people had when they were ill in bed.

"You see the whole trouble was that I was in a house where there were a great many people and they all liked to use me. What is more they could move me around easily because I was so light."

"Aren't you still light?" asked the arm chair. "I thought that was why we always had gotten along so well together. I'm a lazy arm chair and you are a light weight, or in other words there isn't so much to you. You are light in your table brains and all of that."



"To Put Her Knitting Bag on."

"Of course I am, and I am still light," said the little tea table. "I've no doubt that that is why we are such good friends, just as you have said it."

"Then what is the trouble?" asked the arm chair.

"I grumbled," said the tea table. "I grumbled and said I wished I had been a big tea table which was heavy and had to be wheeled about and that my front wheel would cause a good deal of trouble by going all around in the wrong way. You see I am a little tea table, a very little one, and I fold up and can be lifted around as I said before. I am a good-natured little table.

"Then too, I am pretty. I hope you won't think that it is conceited of me to say so."

"I won't," said the arm chair.

"As I have said I grumbled about being used so much and for this and that and for each person who happened to want to use me.

"But do you know that the people put me away for some time when they had a great many summer visitors and when they didn't use me at all.

"Well, then I felt dreadfully. If they had gone away and I had simply been idle with the rest of the furniture I wouldn't have minded. But they were all here and just didn't use me.

"I believe they must have known I had grumbled. Well, I didn't like my holidays at all. And I hope no one will ever hear me say again I am used for too many purposes and by too many people."

Just at that moment the mother of the family came up to the little table and said,

"Let's get out the table for the birthday presents."

And the little table creaked and said to the arm chair, "Now, I'm happy!"

ONCE A TERM OF REPROACH

"Grass Widow" Employed by Teutons to Indicate an Unmarried Mother—Other Possible Origins.

The term "Grass Widow" very likely originated from the wording of a Canon law of the eleventh century, which ordained that a widow should remain "under God's protection and grace" for a full year after her husband's death, and then marry if she pleased. Such women were "widows of grace," and in later parish registers they are described as "Grasse Widowes." In the time of Sir Thomas More the term "grass widow" was applied to unmarried mothers, and in this sense it was used in most of the Teutonic languages. In modern times the term lost that reproach, and has been applied to the wives of men long absent from home. Another explanation of its origin is found here in the United States. During the days of gold rushes it was common for men to board out their wives until they had made enough to start a home in the West, and this, in the picturesque speech of the time, was termed "putting one's widow out to grass."

"Let's go to the beach for a few weeks," said Brown's wife. "Just think, dear of the soothing murmur of the sea, the constant breaking of the waves and—"

"And the equally constant breaking of the $20 bills," put in her more practical husband.—Boston Evening Transcript.

A. E. F. Veterans Who Served in France Will Probably Quickly See Point of Little Joke.

It was evening at the edge of a little French village—the only thing visible above the mud. The men, deeply disgusted, had been called out for "retreat." At the command "Right dress!" there was much floundering about before the line slowly oscillated into a semblance of straightness. The company commander, suspicious of A. W. O. L.'s, watched closely as the corporals reported their squads. Suddenly he interrupted. "Report your squad again, corporal!" he commanded.

"Twenty-fourth squad present," came the answer.

"What do you mean by reporting all present, Judson?" shouted the captain. "You've only three men in the front rank."

"No, sir," retorted the corporal in tones of extreme weariness. "That vacancy is 'Shorty Meggs.' He's in a mud hole."—Judge.

Internal Trouble.

Allen had been eating green apples and had cramps in his stomach, but did not mention it for fear of getting a scolding. He was sent on an errand to the neighbor's, but was obliged to stop on the way and lie across a stump till the cramps left him. When he returned he was asked to give an account of himself for being gone so long.

"Well, mother," he explained, clasping his hands across his stomach, with a grimace, "I was delayed on account of engine trouble."

Explaining.

"Dear, have you any loose change?"

"No, pet; money's too tight."—Baltimore American.

GETS BEST OF HOLD-UPS.

Gustave Grosche, local cattle dealer, had an exciting experience with two hold-ups in Chicago Heights the fore part of the week. Two young fellows about twenty-one years old attempted to hold him up in the street. Mr. Grosche backed against a fence so the men could not get back of him and showed fight. One of the men placed his hand over Mr. Grosche's mouth to prevent him from making an outcry, but his fingers slipped and one got into Mr. Groesche's mouth. The latter shut down his teeth tight and held the finger with a bulldog grip. He grabbed hold of the hold-up and gave him a merry tussle. In jerking his finger out of Mr. Groesche's mouth the hold-up man pulled out two of Mr. Groesche's teeth. A woman saw the fray and gave an alarm, which frightened the robbers away. They did not get anything.

From the spectroscopic measurements made at Mt. Wilson observatory stars (i. e., the speed with which they are approaching or receding from our solar system), it appears that the star A. G. Berlin has a radial velocity of 339 kilometers a second, the highest constant velocity so far observed for any star. Next to this comes Lelande, with a velocity of 325 kilometers a second, in the opposite direction.

Famous Name in Boston.

Three Josiah Quincys have filled the office of mayor of Boston. The first Josiah Quincy to become mayor served six years, from 1823 to 1828, later becoming president of Harvard college. His son, Josiah Quincy, Jr., was mayor for three years, from 1846 to 1818, and he was the grandfather of the Josiah Quincy who was mayor for four years, from 1896 to 1899.

There is a copy of Milton's poems in the public library at Exeter (Eng.) bound in part of the skin of George Cudmore, who, with Sarah Dunn, was committed to the Devon county jail on October 30, 1829, for murdering his wife by poisoning her, was tried at the Lent assizes in the following year, and executed on March 25, 1830.

Use for Electric Fan in Closet.

An electric fan has not fulfilled all its obligations when it has cooled your house. Set it revolving in a dark, airless closet; it will bring in its wake ventilation, if the door is left open during the process. In addition it will dispossess the moths.

Use for Waste Lands.

Every state in the union has some part of the swamp and wet lands that for the entire country have an aggregate area of 102,800,000 acres—larger than Iowa, Illinois and Indiana combined and three-fourths as large as France. The agricultural value of these lands varies considerably, but specialists of the United States department of agriculture believe that large areas, if properly drained and cleared by public or private co-operation, could be transformed into productive farms.

Koreans Well Advanced.

The Koreans are much superior to both Japanese and Chinese in culture of heart and in mentality. They are progressive on constructive lines; in economics they equal America, and their spiritual side is well balanced, both men and women being eager for knowledge on ethical lines. They are reticent and refined in their moral nature.—Chicago Daily News.

Worth More Than That Now.

On June 20, in 1632, the patent of Maryland, granted to George Calvert, Lord Baltimore, was after his death made over to his son, Cecilius Calvert. King Charles signed the new patent and gave to the grant of land the name of Maryland, in honor of his queen, Henrietta Maria. While Lord Baltimore held the grant he paid for it yearly to the crown of England two Indian arrows, which are still on exhibition at Windsor castle, England.

Women Senators of Old.

Rome, as early as the year 218 A. D., recognized a senate of women. This senate, though, differed from most others by confining its considerations and its discussions to matters of etiquette and dress. The assembly had the approbation of Elagubalus and held its meetings in the Quirinal. Cruelty, extravagance and vice were the outstanding characteristics of the reign of Elagubalus. Hence, the necessity of having conferences of the sort.

Man's Wonderful Makeup.

No difference how sour a man looks, he contains about 60 lumps of sugar of the ordinary cubical dimensions, and to make the seasoning complete, there are 20 spoonfuls of salt. If a man were distilled into water he would make about 38 quarts, or more than half his entire weight. He also contains a great deal of starch, chloride of potash, magnesium, sulphur and hydrochloric acid in his wonderful system.

Right Definition of a Classic.

A classic is properly a book which maintains itself by virtue of that happy coalescence of matter and style, that innate and exquisite sympathy between the thought that gives life and the form that consents to every mood and of grace and dignity, which can be simple without being vulgar, elevated without being distant, and which is something neither ancient nor modern, always new and incapable of growing old.—Lowell.

In Fast America.

In France the centerfielder is known as "le campeur de centre," a home run as "une course sans arret" and the home plate as "le plaque debut final." If we had such names here how quickly they would be cut down by the fans and writers. Even a player with three syllables in his name generally has to get along with one.—Portland (Ore.) Press.

His Provocation.

"Slick proposed to Chamian last night," whispered Heloise of the rapid fire restaurant. "He said he couldn't live without her."

"Uh-huh!" returned Claudine of the same establishment. "I heard his mother had married again and wouldn't support him any longer."—Kansas City Star.

PIE GREAT AMERICAN DESSERT.

No matter what filling a pie contains, if the shell or crust is not flaky, rich and tasty the pie is a failure.

A Good Plain Paste.—Use one and one-half cupfuls of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, six tablespoonfuls of fat and just cold water enough to mix well. Cut in the fat with two knives until it is fine and well mixed. Reserve a half cupful of this mixture and add the water to the rest; roll out a piece large enough to take the half cupful well sprinkled over it, then fold sides to the center, then ends to the center, and cut in halves. Roll out the under crust, add the filling and put on the thinly rolled upper crust. This method gives a very flaky crust with less than the usual pastry.

Mother's Apple Pie.—Fill the prepared pastry shell with sliced apples, add two or three tablespoonfuls of water and place the top crust. Bake and then carefully with a sharp knife cut around the crust and remove the top. Add sugar, spice, a tablespoonful of butter and replace the top. This pie will never run over and lose its sweetness on the oven bottom.

Fruit Pie.—This pie is best made with fresh fruit, but a cupful and a half of currants, raspberries, blueberries, or, in fact, any kind that has been put up uncooked will do. The recipe calls for one cupful of crushed fruit, one cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of flour, the yolks of two eggs and a little salt; put into the shell and bake, covering with a meringue made from the whites. The shell may be baked, the fruit cooked, then the meringue placed on top and browned and the pie is ready to serve. Either method will result in a good pie.

Ethereal Apple Pie.—Bake eight large tart apples and put them through a sieve, chill, then add three-fourths of a cupful of sugar and the whites of five eggs beaten stiff. Add a pinch of salt to the eggs when beaten. Add to the apple and bake in a buttered pudding dish. Serve with cream and sugar. This shell-less pie will be good for those who cannot enjoy pastry.

People have to live first before they can see, and they don't think until they are fed, and one needs always to have had enough turnips and cabbages to eat without the troubling about the getting them, in order to see in them anything except food.—Mrs. Wilkins.

FAVORITE FRENCH DISHES.

As for the French cook his business in life is to extract the utmost possibility from every article on the menu and present it in the most attractive form.

Bouillabaisse.—With us any fish, such as cod, fresh mackerel or any fine-grained fish will answer for this dish, although originally several sorts were generally used. Allow three pounds of fishflakes, mince two onions and one parsnip cut fine and fry them until a light brown. Add two large tomatoes, a bit of garlic, the juice of a lemon, half a teaspoonful of powdered saffron, some sprigs of parsley, and a bay leaf. Add one quart of boiling water and a cupful of light grape juice; cover closely and cook 20 minutes. Place diced toasted bread in the soup tureen, pour in the fish with the soup and serve hot.

Apple Charlotte.—Peel and core ten fine apples and mince them fine. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan, add one cupful of sugar, the grated rind of a half a lemon and half a teaspoonful of cinnamon. Stew in this sirup until they are soft. Mash fine, add two tablespoonfuls of apricot marmalade and let it cool. Butter a large mold, cut thin strips of bread, dip them in melted butter and line a mold, letting them lap a little. For the bottom lay the strips in the form of a star. Fill the mold with the prepared apple, cover with a large slice of buttered bread and bake in a moderate oven for 40 minutes. Turn out on a plate and dust with powdered sugar.

Undoubtedly, we believe that spiritual virtues should concern us more nearly than material ones; but equally do we believe that if a thing be done, it had best be well done, except it be a canvas back duck; and no housewife ever lost her title to future bliss through the keeping of a good table while she was on earth.—Owen Wister.

A WILDERNESS OF SWEETS.

Tortes are the cakes par excellence. They are rich in nuts, eggs, and crumbs, and when carefully made and baked are especially toothsome.

Walnut Torte.—Beat the yolks of six eggs with one cupful of sugar, add one-fourth of a pound of ground walnut meats and six grated lady fingers, two tablespoonfuls of flour sifted with one teaspoonful of baking powder. Add the juice and rind of half a lemon, cut and fold in the stiffly beaten whites and bake in layers in a moderate oven.

Filling.—Beat one egg yolk, add two tablespoonfuls of sugar, three-fourths of a cupful of milk; cook, stirring until the mixture coats the spoon; add three-fourths of a pound of chopped walnuts with a teaspoonful of vanilla for flavoring; put between the layers and on top.

Date Torte.—Rub 16 sliced dates to a smooth paste with two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice. Beat two whole eggs and seven yolks, add one and three-fourths cupfuls of sugar, beat well, add the dates, three tablespoonfuls of chocolate, and one teaspoonful each of cinnamon and allspice, and a cupful of cracker crumbs; stir well and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of seven eggs. Bake in a large springerlie form.

Moss Torte.—Beat ten yolks of eggs with one cupful of powdered sugar until light; add a portion of six ounces of finely ground almonds and lastly the beaten whites of seven eggs. Bake in layers and use sweetened and flavored whipped cream for filling.

Angel Food.—Beat one cupful of egg whites until stiff, adding a quarter of a teaspoonful of cream of tartar. Sift one cupful of sifted flour with one quarter of a teaspoonful of cream of tartar, add one cupful of sugar lightly to the beaten whites, a pinch of salt and a teaspoonful of flavoring, then fold in the flour. Bake in a tube pan 50 to 60 minutes in a moderate oven.

A layer cake (unless a torte) needs a quicker oven than a loaf cake. When putting a cake in the pan, especially a loaf cake, always leave a depression in the center, as it will rise first there, and make a hump; this method results in a flat, even shaped loaf.

Do you covet learning's prize,
Climb her heights and take it;
In ourselves our future lies—
Life is what we make it.

GOOD THINGS FOR THE TABLE.

In the time of year when chestnuts are in season the pudding par excellence is Nesselrode Pudding.—Make a custard of three cupfuls of milk, one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, one-half teaspoonful of salt and four egg yolks; cook, strain and cool; add one pint of thin cream, one-fourth of a cupful of pineapple sirup and one and one-half cupfuls of blanched chestnuts cooked soft in boiling water and put through a sieve. Line a two-quart melon mold with part of the mixture; to the remainder add one-half cupful of candied fruit cut in small pieces, one-quarter of a cup of sultana raisins and eight chestnuts broken in pieces and soaked in maraschino sirup for several hours. Fill the mold, cover, pack in salt and ice and let stand two hours. Serve with whipped cream flavored with maraschino sirup.

Jellied Chicken.—Dress, clean and cut up a four-pound fowl. Put in a saucepan with two slices of onion; cover with boiling water and cook slowly until the meat falls from the bones. When partly cooked add a half tablespoonful of salt. Remove the chicken, reduce the stock to three-fourths of cupful, strain and skim off the fat. Decorate the bottom of the mold with parsley and hard-cooked eggs, sliced. Pack in the meat, freed from skin and bone and sprinkled with salt and pepper. Pour over the stock and place the mold under a heavy weight. Keep in a cold place until firm. In warm weather add a teaspoonful of gelatin to the stock.

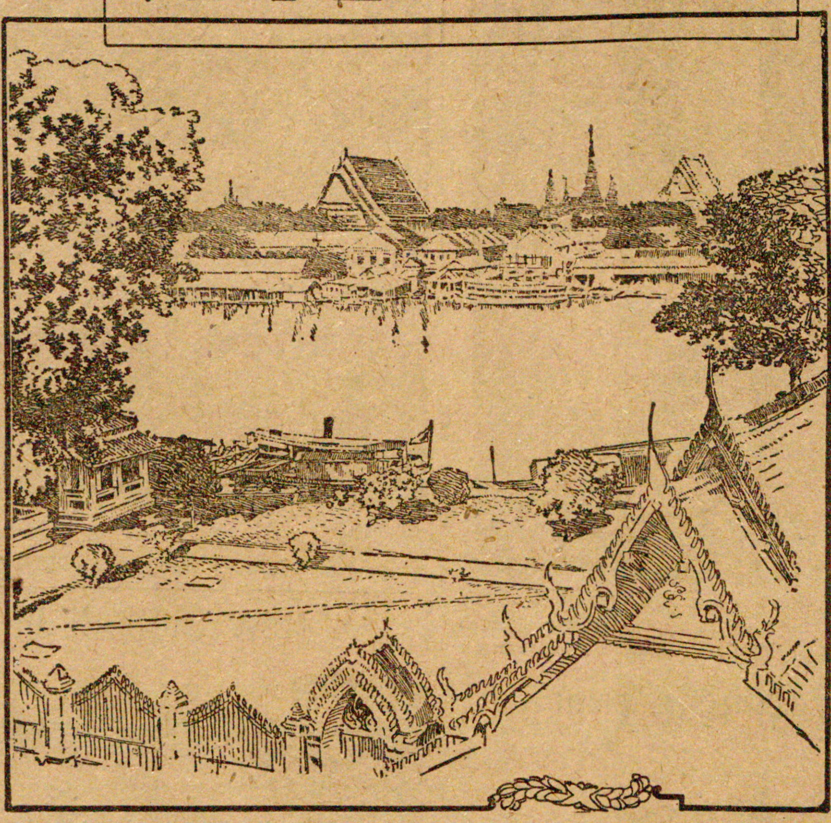
IN BANGKOK



A View in Bangkok.

At Singapore the traveler bound for Siam quits the liner and embarks upon one of the small steamers which take the mails to Bangkok. The steamer makes for the low mangrove-fringed shore which marks his destination and presently enters the muddy Bangkok river, writes P. A. Thompson in "Siam." On either side stretch salt marshes, soon hidden behind the luxuriant vegetation. Here on the oozy banks are fern-like attap and rank tropical growths, half submerged, while rising from the firmer ground behind are the slender trunks and graceful fronds of areca and coconut palms.

Bangkok is twelve miles from the coast in a direct line, but so tortuous is the river that it is fully three hours before we arrive. Here a score of small steamers are anchored in midstream. Others lie alongside the wharfs, together with sailing vessels of all descriptions: merchantmen from Europe, rice boats from up country, and fishing boats from the gulf. Everywhere we see Chinese toiling. Boats ply to and fro between the banks, and every now and then the little vessels are set dancing and plunging in the wash of the steam launches which tear by. At length we, too, draw in to a wharf and land amidst piles of goods.

Motley Throng in the Street.

Behind the wharfs and mills which line the river on its eastern side, we come upon a long street, white and dusty in the dry months, and in the rainy season a lane of mud. Here at all seasons a motley crowd of Chinese, Siamese, Malays, Hindus and Mahometans jostle each other, while coolies toil along at a foot pace with 'rickshaws in the last stages of dilapidation. A crazy gharry, bearing a distant resemblance to a London growler and drawn by a diminutive pony, bumps over the uneven surface, and on one side of the road electric trams, packed with natives, are screeching along the ill-laid track. None of these methods of locomotion appeals to us, nor do we feel inclined to mingle with the throng of pedestrians. However, if we are lucky we may find near by a stable, at which we may hire a pair-horse gharry, a sort of miniature victoria. We will not look on while the ponies are being put in, for it is not well to know exactly how much string is used in the composition of our harness. It is certain that the proportion is large, but if only the reins hold out we must be thankful. * * *

On either side are rows of one-storied wooden houses. The shops on the ground floor are quite open to the street, and we can see Chinese carpenters, tailors and bootmakers at work inside, while elsewhere cheap cotton goods and hardware are displayed. Now and then we pass a Chinese joss-house with fantastic roof-ridge, and through the open door we see an altar decked with tinsel and peacocks' feathers. * * *

Official Quarter and Royal Palace.

Our driver expects us to direct him at every step, so if we say nothing he will keep straight on and we shall presently come to the old city wall, whitewashed now, and much disfigured with telegraph wires, but with picturesque battlements shaped like the leaves of the sacred Bo tree. Within we are at once sensible of a great improvement as we bowl over the well-kept surface of a broad avenue, planted with plane trees, and bordered by neat rows of brick houses. As we cross a canal we catch a glimpse of trees reflected in the water, and trim lawns, and beyond them pagodas blazing with pure gold in the sunlight. This is the official quarter. * * * Here, too, is the Royal Palace, whose brilliant roofs and iridescent spires are seen over the dazzling whiteness of the outer wall.

Just outside the city wall is the Golden Mount, a bell-shaped mound, faced with brick, but so overgrown by trees that it has the appearance of a natural hillock. On the summit is a little shrine surmounted by a pagoda, and to it leads a flight of steps, winding about a hill. From here we look down upon a forest of palms and plane trees, through which break the red roofs of the houses. Everywhere rising above the trees are graceful spires and the manifold roofs of temples, with their tiles of rich orange or deep purple, great splashes of color against the clear blue sky. To this place we may often return to watch the dawn stealing over the paddy fields, whilst at our feet the palm trees rise through a veil of purple mist; or when at evening the pink rays of the setting sun are shooting halfway to the zenith we may come up here and see the thousand pinnacles of Bangkok, outlined in the rifts between low-lying clouds against a smoky orange sky.

KEEP BUSY AND LIVE LONG

Notable Examples of Longevity Among Men Who Have Elected to Remain in "Harness."

Maybe it used to be that "the good die young," but it doesn't look as though they're doing it now.

He's one hundred and two years old.

He's never smoked or chewed tobacco or drank intoxicating liquor. Never quarreled or fought with another man. Always trying to do good and to persuade others to behave themselves.

Rev. Mr. Vogel is the oldest active minister of the gospel in the United States.

Hard work, lots of walking and an occasional fishing trip is his formula for a long and happy life.

And this reminds us that Rev. Dr. Aaron E. Ballard is president of the Ocean Grove Camp Meeting association, New York, and is ninety-eight years old.

"I never would have lived to this age," Doctor Ballard said, "if I had retired at sixty and commenced twirling my thumbs in idleness."

So it seems the good don't die young—if they keep busy.—New York World.

Fish That Spin Silk.

Silk stockings are very expensive nowadays, says Pearson's Weekly.

The most costly of all this kind of hosiery, however, is made from silk which is not the product of the silk-worms, but a species of shellfish called a puina.

The puina makes its home in the warm waters of the Mediterranean round Sicily. It has an odd little tube at the end of its tongue.

Out of this tube, spider fashion, or silk-worm fashion, it spins a silk thread with which it fastens itself to any rock to which it wishes to adhere.

When the puina moves on to fresh feeding grounds its silken cable is left behind. This cable, which is called byssus, the Sicilian fishermen gather. Byssus weaves into the softest, finest, sheeniest of fabrics; but it is very rare, and the stockings woven from it consequently are—as has been said—exceedingly expensive.

"Good Night" Is Too Long.

The countryman's "How do?" or "How be?" is outclassed by the London printing trade's "Good" or "Good, George"—omitting the "night" and the "morning."—London Chronicle.

A SAFEGUARD

The germs of influenza, and colds, as well as many others, are carried by the air we breathe, hence the best protection is to keep something in your nose that destroys these germs, but at the same time is harmless to the individual, and not irritating.

Vacher-Balm was found during the last epidemic of Influenza to fill the above requirements, indeed many specialists habitually used, and prescribed it.

In fact if you paid a specialist $25.00 for a prescription, you could not get anything better for the purpose.

It also gives quick relief for Catarrh, Coughs, and any superficial inflammation.

For a limited time we will mail FREE Samples to points where we have no agent, so don't miss this opportunity, but write today for a free sample, and agent's prices, or send 25c to E. W. Vacher, Inc., New Orleans, La., for a 25c tube.

The demand for Vacher-Balm was so great last winter that it was difficult to supply it.—Adv.

Great Gas Cloud Forming.

An enormous gas cloud gathering on the sun forms an arc 340,000 miles long on the edge of that body, astronomers say. It is about 125,000 miles away from the edge, and the distance from the sun to the top of the cloud is estimated to be 200,000 miles.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Womens' complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

A SUMMER COLD

A cold in the summer time, as everybody knows, is the hardest kind of a cold to get rid of. The best and quickest way is to go to bed and stay there if you can, with a bottle of "Boschee's Syrup" handy to insure a good night's rest, free from coughing, with easy expectoration in the morning.

But if you can't stay in bed you must keep out of draughts, avoid sudden changes, eat sparingly of simple food and take occasional doses of Boschee's Syrup, which you can buy at any store where medicine is sold, a safe and efficient remedy, made in America for more than fifty years. Keep it handy.—Adv.

"I had one of the worst cases of kidney complaint imaginable," says Mrs. Wm. Vogt, 6315 Audrey Ave., Wellston, Mo., "and I was laid up in bed for days at a time.

"My bladder was inflamed and the kidney secretions caused terrible pain. My back was in such bad shape that when I moved the pains were like a knife-thrust. I got so dizzy I couldn't stoop and my head just throbbed with pain. Beads of perspiration would stand on my temples, then I would become cold and numb. My heart action was affected and I felt as if I couldn't take another breath. I got so nervous and run down, I felt life wasn't worth living and often wished that I might die so my suffering would be ended. Medicine failed to help me and I was discouraged.

It is just as needless as it is dangerous to take violent or nasty cathartics. Nature provides no shock absorbers for your liver and bowels against calomel, harsh pills, sickening oil and salts. Too Ill to Work in homes, stores, offices and factories are not fit to be at work. They toil on day after day and year after year suffering with distressing weaknesses and derangements, hoping against hope that they will soon feel better, but how can they hope to do good work or escape permanent invalidism?

Such women are in danger of derangement of women's functions. They owe it to themselves to try that good old fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been restoring American Women to health and strength.

Here is a Notable Example

Joplin, Missouri.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to see if it really would do as it was advertised and it sure did, and more. I was weak and could not do much work, had bearing down pains and had to go to bed. I learned about the Vegetable Compound from my mother and my husband told me to get it. After taking one bottle I was able to be on my feet most of the time and do my work again. I have a baby eleven months old and I have done all my own work, even the washing and ironing since she was three weeks old. I certainly recommend your great medicine to everyone who complains of female trouble and I am more than willing for you to use my testimonial." —Mrs. TIMOTHY GRANEY, 426 Connor Ave., Joplin, Mo.

And Another

Chicago, Illinois.—"I suffered for four years with pains in my sides, hips and legs and a terrible backache. I could not do any work at all. I was treated by many physicians but they did not help me. I read in one of your books where other women have been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; so I tried it and it helped me very much so that now I can do everything in the house. I have told my friends about Vegetable Compound and you have my permission to use this letter."—Mrs. I. OVENSTEIN, 902 S. Marshfield Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

LADIES' AID ELECTS OFFICERS.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist church has elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. F. J. Kohlhagen.
Vice President—Mrs. George Andrew.
Secretary—Mrs. George Mitchell.
Treasurer—Mrs. John Lapien.

An official board meeting was held at the local Methodist church Saturday afternoon at 2:30 with Rev. J. M. Phelps, district superintendent in charge.

A change in charges is expected to be made at the forthcoming conference. New Lenox and Frankfort charges have been served by the same pastor this year, but this arrangement is not satisfactory to the New Lenox people it is understood. Just with what other charge the Frankfort Methodist church will be lined up with is not known as yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klepper expect to leave this week for Excelsior Springs, Mo., for the benefit of Mr. Klepper's health. They expect to be gone for several weeks or a month.

Clarence Deist underwent an operation at the Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, the past week. Dr. W. V. Hedges performed the operation. Mr. Deist is convalescing favorably.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to thank all my friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown me during the late illness and death of my beloved husband, William Scheer. I also thank the Brotherhood, the choir and William Baumgartner for their songs, and thank the givers of the beautiful floral offerings.

MRS. WILLIAM SCHEER.

A Great Advantage.

The principal of a college was lecturing has staff of teachers upon efficiency. "What," he demanded, "would be thought of a glovemaker who at the close of the season found 10 per cent of his stock returned because it fell below standard requirements? Why should we require a 100 per cent efficiency of the glove-maker and only 90 per cent of a teacher?" "Because," responded a teacher, "he can select his kids!"

MOKENA

Mrs. Stoll of Joliet was entertained at the home of Mrs. A. C. Scheiblich and visited with old-time Mokena friends the week end.

V. H. Scheer, who recently sold his home here to W. C. Schmuhl of New Lenox has rented a dwelling in Tinley Park and expects to move there soon. Mr. Scheer is engaged in a large concrete manufacturing business in Tinley Park.

The Kolber family has returned from Chicago, where they have been spending a few days observing the Jewish holidays.

George J. Hacker received a carload of gluten feed the past week and sold it quickly.

Mokena is having a big scarcity of sugar. The past week the local stores had to limit their sales to one pound per purchaser.

Herbert Moriarty has been engaged to serve as auctioneer at the Adam Keuch sale to be held October 12.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Kraus entertained out-of-town guests over Sunday.

The hunting season has opened with a big drive on squirrels. The season is from July 1 to December 1. Prairie chickens can be killed from October 20 to October 31, daily limit 3. Bob White quail can be killed from November 10 to December 10, daily limit being 12.

Mrs. Oestreich of Joliet is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. William Semmler.

Albert Hellmuth sold a carload of potatoes the past week at $1.75 per bushel. He sold another carload this week for $1.85 per bushel sacked. The potato price has taken a sharp advance the past week. Other Mokena men had expected to get in potatoes, but they cannot get the cars.

Must Have Been Moving Rapidly.

One day I sent Ralph to a store several blocks away. In the meantime it rained, and immediately at the close of the shower he returned and I asked him anxiously: "Why, Ralph, where were you when it rained?" He replied: "I wasn't anywhere—I was running."—Chicago American.

Chinese Dietary.

Chinese cooking has for its general basis chicken broth or poultry jelly and red sauce. The latter accompanies nearly all the dishes; it is a kind of dissolved meat jelly flavored with pimento and coriander. Pork and mutton are almost exclusively eaten; horse and camel meat, however, may be bought. The number of edible dogs eaten annually in China is estimated at 5,000,000.

Wise John.

John was able to persuade Ruth to do most things he desired. One day the children, with their little cousin, Edward, decided to draw pictures. Edward and John each found a pencil, but Ruth was still without one until her mother came to her aid with a big new pencil. John, whose pencil was a blue stub, looked longingly at the new one and then, in a coaxing voice, said: "Ruthie, don't you want this nice pretty blue one? It just matches your eyes." Needless to say, John secured the long pencil.
